We colour your safety with our large collection of surprising design extinguishers.

Always a fire extinguisher at hand, everywhere, a reassuring idea. Most households don't have a fire extinguisher and if there is one, it is usually somewhere out of sight. In the barn, the cellar or at the back of a cupboard, because fire extinguishers are simply not a fine piece of design.

With the Fire-Art design extinguishers you are no longer condemned to the standard red version of a fire extinguisher, but you have choice out of several original designs that can fit into your interior. Our extinguishers contain 1kg ABC powder and meet the European safety requirements. A design extinguisher cannot replace the legally prescribed extinguisher. This is because it is not red and has no visible instructions for use.
